

average 16 year old boy as he has Aspergers which sets him back from others his age. He is the most important person to us and this age is especially tough to be without a father. My son Kenny is always told what is going on and there are no secrets that are kept from him. He is fortunate to have the father my husband is as he has made sure that he is at every event and every meeting at school to support his son. His father has made sure that Kenny is treated like everyone else but also that others know he is not like everyone else. I ask that you keep in mind the importance of this age in his life in having his father near him to support his growth as a father and only a father can. He is such an honest and loving child who has only one friend which is his Dad. Please think of the impact on my sons life by not having his father around.

Respectfully yours

Carla J. Degnan